

About the energate messenger english edition

The energate messenger english edition provides the most essential news and background information on the German and European energy markets in a daily e-mail newsletter and on the website. In addition, the reader has access to an archive with more than 22.000 articles on energy-related news.

The topics range from market & companies, politics, electricity, gas & heat to trends in technology and mobility. energate messenger english edition is aimed at readers interested in the German energy transition who work at energy companies, grid operators and tech companies, those active in politics and associations, as well as investors, consultants and financial service providers.

"As the energe publication is already well-established as a German edition, the topics and content are relevant and highly informative. Creating an English edition is a very smart move as more and more international players are attracted to the German-speaking energy markets."

David Lewis
Commercial Director, Enerco Systems GmbH

About us

The energate messenger english edition is published by energate, the leading specialist media company in the DACH energy-market area. The editorial team consists of around 20 energy journalists who cover the sector in Germany, Belgium, Switzerland and Austria.

Find out more

ener|gate
con|energy gruppe

FREE TRIAL SUBSCRIPTION

Get a free 60-day trial subscription for the energe messenger english edition.

Subscribe now!